The bride says...

"Don't forget to take a step back and take it all in. It's all about you and your partner. Make sure you carve out time to spend with each other. The day will fly by!"

The Reception: With an overall theme of "Drink. Dine. Dance" in full effect, the intent of Tiffany and Michael's reception was to curate an incredible evening of entertainment. Contemporary style cues outlined the Artifacts Room, a cocktail-styled reception provided attendees with a fresh take on a traditional celebration and two bands, four DJs and two sets of surprise performers appeared throughout the evening's itinerary. The reception never had a dull moment. A live social media feed gave guests a real time look at the event's social activity, while the flipbook and Lindt station gave people something to take home.

How they met: Tiffany and Michael met through mutual friends back in 2008 at a bar in the King West entertainment district of downtown Toronto. After two years had passed, they reconnected again by regularly rallying their friends to meet at club outings. Through their love for music, food and good times, Tiffany and Michael's connection strengthened, leading them to no longer require the presence of their friends to see one another.

The Ceremony: On Thanksgiving weekend 2014 Tiffany and Michael had a beautiful outdoor wedding set in the courtyard of the Liberty Grand photographed by Foster Visuals. With 360-degree seating, guests were able to enjoy a modern take on a Catholic ceremony integrated with Filipino customs. Over 200 of Tiffany and Michael's closest friends and family attended, including a gorgeous wedding party consisting of bridesmaids, groomsmen and sponsor couples.

The Décor: The "Drink, Dine, Dance." theme appeared on several elements of the décor created by Rachel A. Clingen Event Design, including boards outlining the menu and signature drinks available at the bar. The bride, groom and wedding party sat like royalty at a sweetheart table with high-back chairs, while guests were open to a small lounge area where couches and plush chairs encircled small cocktail tables.
