ABOUT THE COUPLE

Though Sierra-Maria Massara and Andrew Perugini originally met when they were just eight years old (Andrew's brother played hockey with Sierra-Maria's cousin), it wasn't until 2011 while the pair were attending York University that their friendship began.

Andrew proposed on October 2, 2015, during a date he had carefully planned to celebrate the couple's three-year anniversary. The date (or proposal, as Sierra-Maria would later learn) began with roses being sent to her throughout the day. Each rose had a little tag attached to it with instructions such as, "A driver will pick you up at 5:30" and "Meet me at the Thompson Hotel." Per one of the notes, when Sierra-Maria finally arrived at the hotel suite, she entered with her eyes closed. When she opened her eyes, she saw a note that said "Turn around!" There was Andrew, down on one knee, in a suite filled with treats, balloons, candles, and photographs of the couple. There was also a camera set up in the corner that had captured the entire proposal! Later, the pair celebrated over dinner before heading to a surprise engagement party with their closest friends and family in attendance.

The wedding took place on July 21, 2018 in Woodbridge, Ontario. Michelle Cundari of SINCERELY YOURS EVENTS provided full event planning and design services.

Sierra-Maria accessorized with a bracelet, necklace, and headpiece from TARA FAVA JEWELLERY and diamond earrings gifted by her grandparents. Her heels were by BADGLEY MISCHKA.

The bridesmaids wore blush dresses by WATTERS purchased at AVENUE 22 BRIDAL. The maid of honour wore a beaded dress from BHLDN.

The couple's rings were custom-designed by Andrew and purchased at D & L JEWELLERY.

Sierra-Maria's cousins all played a role in her big day. The boys, who the bride calls her little superheroes, were given the task of "guarding" the rings and even wore security badges to look the part.

GARDEN GLAM

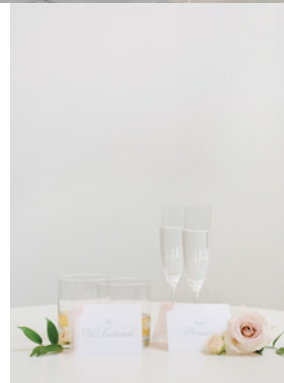

The reception was also a garden fairytale, with a spectacular floral canopy of roses, wisteria, and vines suspended from the ceiling. A variety of centerpieces embellished tables, ranging from fresh blooms wrapped around candelabras to floral hedges interspersed with crystal candlesticks.

THE ARLINGTON ESTATE provided their catering services.

Pink draping from EVENTURE CUSTOM ENVIRONMENTS & EVENT DRAPING hung behind the head table. Nine crystal chandeliers from 3 EVENTS and RACHEL A. CLINGEN WEDDING & EVENT DESIGN hung above the dance floor.

The dance floor bore the same floral motif as the invitation suite and was designed by SO PRETTY IN PRINT and produced by EVENT GRAFFITI.

GRAND ENTRY

Upon entering THE ARLINGTON ESTATE, guests were treated to a garden parkette cocktail hour designed by the RACHEL A. CLINGEN WEDDING & EVENT DESIGN team. END NOTES

Sierra-Maria and Andrew's six-tier wedding cake from FINE CAKES BY ZEHRA was the perfect reflection of their big day. The bottom tier was a nod to the ruffled skirt on the bride's dress, while the ornate sofa on the fourth tier closely resembled the sofa covered in florals that the couple used during their portrait session. Each guest took home chocolate bonbons from SUCCULENT CHOCOLATES AND SWEETS.

After their whimsical garden wedding, Sierra-Maria and Andrew embarked on the honeymoon-of-a-lifetime, where they visited the Maldives, Dubai, Lake Como, and Milan. "Each place was unique and unbelievable in its own way. We had an over-water bungalow in the Maldives, went on a desert safari while riding camels in Dubai, explored villas in Lake Como, and ended in the shopping capital of the world," shares Sierra-Maria. Upon returning home to Woodbridge, the newlyweds settled back into daily life, where Sierra-Maria is a teacher and Andrew is a marketing director.
